

Light up Literacy

Dear

Hanukkah is a time to celebrate freedom and a life without oppression. The ability to read brings knowledge, and that knowledge brings power and freedom of choice.

This year my Hanukkah gift to you is a donation of $ _____ made in your honor to Reading Village, a non-profit organization that promotes children's literacy in rural Maya communities in Guatemala. In these communities the literacy rate is about 50%. Five dollars puts one book in the hands of a Guatemalan child that has never owned one before. Because this special gift was made in your honor, the lives of Guatemalan children will be transformed by giving them the gift of literacy.

Happy Hanukkah!

Love
